

Sequencing the Chimpanzee Genome: What Have We Learned?

Friday March 12, 2004 1.30-6 pm
Liebow Auditorium, UCSD School of Medicine

Chairs:

Ajit Varki, University of California, San Diego
Maynard Olson, University of Washington

Confirmed Speakers:

Chaitan Baru, San Diego Super Computer Center
Sydney Brenner, Salk Institute
Andrew Clark, Cornell University
Evan Eichler, Case Western Reserve University
Mary-Claire King, University of Washington
Tetsuro Matsuzawa, Kyoto University
Svante Paabo, Max-Planck Institute
Maryellen Ruvolo, Harvard University
Yoshiyuki Sakaki, RIKEN Genomic Sciences Center
Caroline Tutin, University of Stirling
Robert Waterston, University of Washington

REGISTER HERE

Admission is Free, but Registration is Required.

Please send email to: lgcarlson@ucsd.edu

Presented by: The Project for Explaining the Origin of Humans
Supported by: The G. Harold & Leila Y. Mathers Charitable Foundation